ADERA Global Pte. Ltd. Cookies Policy

Information about our use of cookies

Our website uses cookies to distinguish you from other users of our website. A cookie is a small text file that we store on your browser or your device and contains a certain amount of information which can only be read by the server that transfers that information. It functions as your automatically generated identification card and enables us to record your password (with your permission), your use of our website and preferences. It does not deliver viruses, nor will it store any personal data.

Our server will automatically log the Internet protocol (IP)/Internet address of your computer, but we do not generally use this information to identify you personally. However, if you expressly provide consent for our website to remember the unique identifier that you select when you register for activities on the site, that unique identifier will be stored on a cookie on your computer, linked to your registration information, and your navigation path around the website will be tracked. We access such data to improve user experience and optimize our site.

We use session cookies. These are stored temporarily in the memory of your device during the time you visit our site. These will be deleted once you close your web browser.

Please note that third parties (including, for example advertising networks) may also use cookies, over which we have no control.

By browsing the site, you consent to our use of cookies. If you do not agree to the use of cookies, you can disable cookies in your web browser's security settings. You can also set your web browser to provide a warning each time a website attempts to store a cookie on your device. You can also delete previously stored cookies from your browser setting. However, if you use your browser setting to block all cookies (including essential cookies), you may not be able to access all or parts of our site.
